

All students must complete the 5 required modules (75 credits) before taking specialist study modules

Practising Public Health – Global context

15 credit (12
weeks)

Generating & evaluating PH evidence

20 credit (12
weeks)

Integrated PH
Research 20 credit (12
weeks)

Leading & Managing Health Systems

10 credit (6
weeks)

Monitoring &
Evaluation
10 credit (6
weeks)

Students will then choose a further two modules from the following four proposed elective modules

Health Protection
10 credit (6 weeks)

Managing Crises
and Disasters

10 credit (6 weeks)

Policy & Programme
Challenges in LIC

10 credit (6 weeks)

Health, Economics
& Governance

10 credit (6 weeks)

Students then choose one of the following advance methods modules depending on whether students are doing a qualitative or quantitative dissertation.

Applied Epidemiological
Research for PH

15 credit (8 weeks)

Applied Qualitative
Research for PH

15 credit (8 weeks)

Health Inequalities
(core)

10 credit (6
weeks)

Dissertation

60 credit